R vs Levin

To the Court,

I am writing to you regarding the sentencing of Ben Levin in the case of R vs Levin. (I am a mother of 4 children and a grandmother of 5 children. My youngest son has Down syndrome and his vulnerability makes me particularly sensitive to this issue.)a personal note

I have learned that Mr. Levin intends to plead guilty to three of the seven charges he has been accused of, namely one count of possession of child pornography, one count of making written child pornography, and one count of counselling a sexual assault.

As Crown Prosecutor, I am asking that you provide my letter to the Judge before sentencing, as I am told reference letters from friends and colleagues are being sought by the accused to lessen his sentence and these letters will be an important part of the sentencing process following his guilty plea. Although I am confident the court would deal severely with any individual convicted of such a heinous crime against children, I want the Judge to know that Ben Levin was the Deputy Minister of Education in 2010 and was instrumental in creating a radical sex education curriculum for Ontario elementary and secondary school children. That curriculum incorporated concepts which were forms of sexual grooming of our children which would then provide child molesters easier access to them. The curriculum was withdrawn by, then Premier of Ontario, Dalton McGuinty because of the mass outrage of parents, grandparents, teachers and concerned public.

I find it alarming that this man would use his position as Deputy Minister to desensitize and groom children about age-inappropriate matters such as masturbation, the use of pornography to stimulate erotic feelings and to teach that anal sex and oral sex are healthy alternatives to vaginal intercourse. It appears reasonable to assume that Mr. Levin's influence in the development of a sex education curriculum was motivated by his perverted attraction to children.

The only way to ensure he is not in any future position of influence over children, and to recognize his repellant behaviour towards children, is to sentence him to a long period of incarceration.

Please acknowledge receipt of my letter via my email address.

Sincerely,
